REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT.
BENJAMIN HARRISON, OF INDIANA.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.
LEVI P. MORTON,
OF NEW YORK.

CLEVELAND AS A FREE TRADER.

James O'Brien, an Irish American and democratic ex-member of congress of New York, in a letter addressed to Congressman Randall shows how many democrats in that state, especially among the workin classes, regard Mr. Cleveland's free trade policy, and the mischievous tendencies of the Mills bill. It says that democrats employed in factories in some of the New York districts are already proposing to organize and oppose any candidate for congress who favors that bill or any similar measure.

There is a strong effort being made by the democratic press to prove that Mr. Cleveland is not a free trader. They don't want it to appear among the factories they are trying to knock down, that the democratic ticket stands for free trade, or anything like it. But words amount to but little compared with action, and the point is well illustrated by Congressman Reed, in the current number of the North American Review: "The democratic platform this year must be interpreted by Cleveland's message. The emphasis must be on free trade. It is true that worthy message, toward the close, tried a few clauses on the other side; but when a man knocks you down, even if he says he would not hurt you for the world, the blow is apt to be more impressive than the word."

Mr. George William Curtis supports Cleveland because he believes in free trade.

The New York Times and Post support Cleveland because they are opposed to protection.

The London Globe, which represents the Cobden club, supports Mr. Cleveland because he is a free trader, and says:

As a rule the presidential contest has very little interest for the old world. On the present occasion, however, an issue is involved which very closely concerns Europe, more particularly Great Britain. Mr. Cleveland has taken his stand on free trade, and although his party managers have considerably planed down his platform, he is universally recognized in states as pledged to imitate a new departure in fiscal policy. Nor can there be any doubt that he would not up to this understanding were he elected. * * *

The central issue of the contest lies between the maintenance of the present fiscal system intact and its modification in the direction of free trade. And on that broad question Mr. Cleveland's candidature naturally and necessarily carries English sympathy.

Then the London Spectator takes the stand a witness for Mr. Cleveland, and testifies—"Cleveland has done more to advance the cause of free trade than any prime minister of England has ever done."

The London Times makes a point which all Irish Americans should bear in mind when they come to cast there votes for president—"The only time England can use an Irishman is when he emigrates to America and votes for free trade."

There are some facts in regard to Cleveland and free trade that command the thoughtful attention of voters.

DEMOCRATS AND SUGAR.

The Oshkosh Times, which once in a while is independent enough to get on the truthful side of politics, has been seduced into printing the following editorial paragraphs and endorsing them:

When the sugar refiners of New York, Boston and Baltimore ship sugar to American merchants in any part of the United States and territories, there is added a tax under the tariff law for the protection of "infant industry" of from 2 to 3 cents per pound, according to quality.

When the same kind of sugar is shipped by the same refiners to Great Britain or the continent, the sugar refiners get a rebate of the amount of the tariff tax.

This enables the English grocers to sell sugar for from 2 to 3 cents per pound less than it can be sold at retail in this country.

So the protective tariff operates to give Great Britain free trade in sugar, while the American people are taxed to support a monopoly of sugar refiners and sugar trusts.

To keep up this burden the republicans are willing to take the tax off from whiskey.

There is nothing that will count so much in the discussion of the tariff in this campaign, as truth and fairness. Now, if the Oshkosh Times, or any other democratic paper, wants to be fair and honest, why doesn't it attack the democratic party in congress for not putting sugar on the free list, or for not materially reducing the tariff on that important article? If the democrats call the sugar industry "an infant industry" in the spirit of sarcasm, why do they insist on keeping the duty on sugar? Is it because it will give protection to a few sugar planters in a state that is good for 50,000 or 100,000 democratic majority?

Will the Times, or anyother democratic paper, explain why it persists in lying about the comparative price of sugar in this country and in England? Why doesn't it tell the truth and say that the price of white sugar in England, is hardly one cent a pound less than in this country; and likewise that the tariff on the sugar in common use is not from 2 to 3 cents a pound?

Then will the Oshkosh Times, or any other democratic paper, explain further singular features in the democratic policy regarding the tariff, as illustrated by the Mills bill? Why does it attack the products of northern states while it is careful to protect the products of the southern states? Where democratic majorities prevail there the knife "skims lightly." Where republican majorities prevail "there the knife is sent up to the hilt" Why put wool—a northern product—on the free list, and keep a duty of from 68 to 100 pea cent on rice, a southern product? Or why put salt, a northern product on the free list, and keep the duty on sugar—a southern product?

These are some questions that democratic papers would do well to answer.

The Rev. Hugh O. Pentecost, the revivalist, can see nothing in either political party, and deplores the ambition which leads men to look upon the attainment of office as a boon to be desired. "What is the worst of this strife," he says, "is that the whole of it occurs without the slightest shock to the public conscience. They even open such a disgraceful contest with prayer by the minister of the gospel! This alone indicates an absolute lack of public morality."

In contrast with this is the sentiment uttered, or rather printed, by the Rev. Mr. Noble, editor of the Chicago Advance, a religious newspaper. He sat in the national republican republican convention most of the time during its sessions, and then went to his office and wrote as follows: "It was a wonderfully good looking assemblage. One could not but feel proud of his country. One was moved to exult in the institutions and the government that produced such men and women. It made it seem easy to be patriotic and devoutly grateful to God."

Take a man like Mr. Pentecost, who is so high above either political party, and he will bear watching. He is a good deal like the Rev. Dr. Leonard, of Ohio, who ran for governor on the prohibition ticket when Governor Foraker first ran. The doctor was the most rampant prohibitionist in all the state, but the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette offered to wager $500, and if it won to pay the money to some charitable institution, that the Rev. Dr. Leonard bought liquor by the gallon and kept it in his house. The doctor did not meet the proposed terms of the Commercial-Gazette.

The centenary of the beginning of the settlement of the country northwest of the Ohio river is to be celebrated at Marietta, Ohio, beginning on Sunday, July 15, and concluding on Thursday, July 19. The programe is as follows: Services in the several churches on Sunday. On Monday, military and civic parades, addresses by Mrs. Livermore and Charles Reemelin, representative of Wisconsin and Indiana by their governors and fireworks in the evening. On Tuesday, Senator Evarts of New York delivers an oration, and the governors of Michigan and Illinois take part in the proceedings, the day closing with an historical pageant at Centennial hall. On Wednesday there will be a pioneer reunion, General Thomas Ewing presiding, an oration by Senator Daniel, of Virginia, etc. Thursday will be Ohio day, with Governor Foraker, Senators Sherman and Payne, and General Grosvenor taking part, concluding with a grand display of fireworks in the evening.

The New York World evidently wants to be just and truthful, although it is democratic, for this graceful correction appears in its editorial columns:

Upon the authority of more than one campaign biography, the World has been led to make the statement that General Ben. Harrison left the army to accept the position of supreme court reporter in Indiana. As a matter of fact, it seems that General Harrison entered the army as captain of Company A, of the 70th Indiana regiment, in July, 1862, and was mustered out with his command at the close of the war. He was elected to the civil office referred to in 1864, but did not enter upon the discharge of his duties until the close of the war. The army record of General Harrison is first class. The World aims to deal only with facts. It is not always an easy matter to obtain them when the demon of politics is abroad in the land.

That last sentence is very truthful. The demon of politics has always been in the democratic party. Its ruling spirit is of the demon kind.

A democratic administration spending appropriation bills drawn by a democratic house disbursed $15,000,000 last year—the largest federal expenditure since 1869—Philadelphia Press.

The Press will be counted by the democrats as waving the bloody shirt if it makes any allusion to democratic appropriations, but nevertheless, it is interesting to note the way the democrats have of being economical. Every democratic platform from 1864 down to the present time, has charged the republican administrations with being extravagant. Let us look at the figures showing the expenditures of each year since 1881:

1881	$259,000,000
1882	257,000,000
1883	265,000,000
1884	244,000,000
1885	265,000,000
1886	257,000,000
1887	315,000,000
1888 democratic	220,000,000

This is cutting down the expenses with a vengeance. But this kind of economy matches the reforms the administration has made in the civil services.

It doesn't become Senator Turpie, of Indiana, to attempt to belittle General Harrison. The other day he referred to him as a well beloved and chosen representative of the rank and lawless growth of incorporated "power" serves only to recall Turpie's own connection with lawlessness—his defense of ballot-box stuffing in Chicago, when he placed two subborned perjurers on the stand to make a case for his client, and his failure as United States District attorney to promptly and vigorously prosecute the Indianapolis ballot-box stuffers—a failure which drew from the judge of the district court a well deserved rebuke and censure.

The Society of Christian Endeavor will meet in this city to-morrow. The Tribune extends a warm welcome to its co-workers and trusts their visit to Chicago may be both pleasant and profitable.—Chicago Tribune.

The Tribune can never be a co-worker with the Christian Endeavor Society so long as it keeps up its lying about the tariff.

"I may wear a bile'd shirt," exclaimed a democratic politician in Missouri the other day, "but my heart ever throbs for the people." Another democrat of that state, who is just now trying to cultivate the negro vote, said the other day in an address to some negroes: Fellow citizens, my skin may be white, but my heart is black." These remarks show how sorely pressed the democrats are for schemes to catch votes.

Life is a joy forever when you keep stomach and bowels in order by taking Vinegar Bitters.

IN HIS OWN DEFENSE.

The President Answers His Pension Veto Critics.

HIS REPLY TO THE SENATE COMMITTEE.

A Final Vote to Be Taken in the House on the Tariff Bill July 16—Work in the Senate and House—Fees of Garfield's Doctors.

CLEVELAND HITS BACK.

WASHINGTON, July 5.—The President sent to Congress yesterday a message vetoing a bill granting a pension to Mary Anne Doherty. It says that a large share of the report of the Senate Committee on Pensions (adopted also by the House Committee) consists of the petition in which the woman says that her husband, who had served in a New Jersey regiment, left her in 1865 and has not been heard of since. She had received a pension as the widow of Daniel Doherty until it was discovered that he was alive and living in Philadelphia and was himself drawing a pension there. She had succeeded in getting the pension in the first instance by much false swearing. The police records of Washington, where she has been living, showed her to be a woman of very bad character, and that she had been under arrest nine times for drunkenness, larceny, creating disturbances and other misdemeanors. The President then enters upon a consideration of pension legislation generally, and says:

"I can not spell out any principle upon which the bounty of the Government is bestowed through the instrumentality of the flood of private pension bills that reach me. The theory seems to have been adopted that no man who served in the army can be the subject of death nor impaired health except they are chargeable to his service. Medical theories are set at naught, and the most startling relation is claimed between alleged incidents of military service and disability or death. Total apoplexy is admitted as the result of quite insignificant wounds, heart disease is attributed to chronic diarrhœa, consumption to hernia, and sunstroke is traced to army service in a consistently devious and curious way. Adjudications of the pension bureau are overruled in the most peremptory fashion by these special acts of Congress, since nearly all the beneficiaries named in these bills have unsuccessfully applied to that bureau for relief.

"This course of special legislation operates very unfairly. Those with certain influence or friends to push their claims procure pensions, and those who have neither friends nor influence must be content with their fate under general laws. It operates unfairly by increasing in numerous instances the pensions of those already on the roll, while many other more deserving cases, from the lack of fortunate advocacy, are obliged to be content with the sum provided by general laws.

"The apprehension may well be entertained that the freedom with which these private pension bills are passed furnishes an inducement to fraud and imposition, while it certainly teaches the vicious lesson to our people that the Treasury of the National Government invites the approach of private need.

"None of us should be in the least wanting in regard for the veteran soldier, and I will yield to no man in a desire to see those who defended the Government when it needed defenders liberally treated. Unfriendliness to our veterans is a charge easily and sometimes dishonestly made. I insist that the true soldier is a good citizen and that he will be satisfied with generous, fair and equal consideration to those who are worthily entitled to help. I have considered the pension list of the Republican roll of honor, bearing the names inscribed by National gratitude, and not by improvident and indiscriminate almsgiving. I have conceived the prevention of the complete discredit which must ensue from the unreasonable, unfair and reckless granting of pensions by special acts to be the best service I can render our veterans. In the discharge of what has seemed to me my duty as related to legislation, and in the interest of all the veterans of the Union army, I have attempted to stop the tide of improvident pension enactments, though I confess to a full share of responsibility for some of these laws that should not have been passed."

"I am far from denying that there are cases of merit which can not be reached except by special enactment, but I do not believe there is a member of either house of Congress who will not admit that this kind of legislation has been carried too far. I have never before so many than 100 special pension bills which can hardly be examined within the time allowed for that purpose. My aim has been at all times in dealing with bills of this character to give the applicant for a pension the benefit of any doubt that might arise and which balanced the propriety of granting a pension if there seemed any just foundation for the application; but when it seemed entirely outside of every rule in its nature or the proof supporting it I have supposed I did only my duty in interposing an objection.

"It seems to me it would be well if all our general pension laws should be revised, with a view of meeting every meritorious case that can arise. Our experience and knowledge of any existing deficiencies ought to make the enactment of a complete pension code possible. In the absence of such a revision, and if pensions are to be granted upon equitable grounds and without regard to general laws; the present methods would be greatly improved by the establishment of some tribunal to examine the facts in every case and determine upon the merits of the application."

SENATOR TURPIE'S MINORITY REPORT.

Senator Turpie, on behalf of the Democratic minority of the Committee on Pensions, yesterday presented a minority report dissenting from the views in regard to the veto power expressed by Senator Davis in the recent majority report from that committee. The minority say:

"We regard that power as a qualified negative upon that of Congress—not derogatory to their rights or action. Neither the power nor its exercise can be regarded as an encroachment upon the province of Congress, since both are provided for in the constitution. Mr. Story, in his justly celebrated commentary upon that instrument says, respecting it: 'The power is important as an additional security against the enactment of rash, immature and improper laws.' Speaking of the action of the Executive therein the same author remarks: 'His view, if not more wise or more elevated, will at least be more independent and under an entirely different responsibility to the Nation from what belongs to Congress. He is the representative of the whole Nation in the aggregate; they are the representatives only of distinct parts.'

"We do not think the frequency of the exercise of this power upon the subject of private bills, even if it were a legitimate objection thereto, is all made out as charged. Out of the large number of such bills a very small percentage have been returned with objections. The frequency bears a very inconsiderable proportion to the number of the applications. As to the means of information made use of by the Executive as a basis for his objections, the President has certainly the same right to make use of the records, files, reports and opinions of the Pension Bureau as members of Congress. The money out of which pensions are paid, is a fund of such quality that it can not be guarded too carefully against immature legislation. The President, equally with any member of the legislative bodies, has the right and duty imposed upon him to form and express his opinion with respect to the justice of a pecuniary claim against this fund, being answerable under his oath and conscience only to the constituency of the Nation for his action therein. As to the merits of the particular bills recited in the committee's report we deem it here unnecessary for us to express an opinion at this time, being willing to do so at such time as the question properly arises upon the final passage thereof."

The report is signed by Senators Turpie, Blodgett, Faulkner, and Wilson, of Maryland.

IN HOUSE AND SENATE.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—A bill was introduced in the House yesterday by Mr. Herbert (Ala.) authorizing the appointment of an Assistant Secretary of the Navy. In committee of the whole the House took up the bill for the settlement of the claim of Florida on account of expenditures incurred in suppressing Indian hostilities and for other purposes. The morning hour expired and the bill went over. Mr. Holman (Ind.) called up the Senate Land Grant Forfeiture bill, with amendments made by the House committee. After the committee amendments, or the substitute for the Senate bill had been read, a number of amendments were offered. Mr. Holman explained the differences between the House committee and the Senate bill. The Senate bill would forfeit 5,037,426 acres, while the pending bill would forfeit 54,328,926 acres subject to bona fide settlers. After some discussion the various amendments offered were voted down. The committee substitute was then adopted, but on the question of the passage of the bill as amended, the House voted—yeas, 142; nays, 12; no quorum, so the House at 6:05 p. m. adjourned, leaving the forfeiture bill the unfinished business.

The Senate adopted the conference report on the Agricultural Appropriation bill, with the exception of the item appropriating $100,000 to continue experiments of manufacturing sugar from sorghum cane, on which a new conference was asked. A bill to make the manufacture, preparation or sale of adulterated articles of food, drink or medicine a misdemeanor punishable by fine and imprisonment was introduced by Senator Wilson (Md.).

TARIFF BILL PROSPECTS.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—There is some encouragement for an early passage of the Tariff bill. There was an informal conference of the Committee of Ways and Means yesterday morning, at which there was a disposition on the part of the Republicans to hasten to a vote as rapidly as possible, and they gave an assurance that there would be no dilatory tactics or unnecessary time occupied in debate. It was the opinion of Messrs. Reed and McKinley that the discussion of the bill ought to be concluded within the next ten days, and the date fixed for a final vote is Monday, July 16. There is no longer doubt that the Democrats will show a sufficient majority to pass the bill; every one concedes that.

FEES OF GARFIELD'S PHYSICIANS.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—On August 5, 1882, Congress appropriated $75,000 to pay the physicians who attended President Garfield in the long illness which preceded his death. By a bill introduced by Senator Voorhees yesterday it is proposed to give $10,206 of this amount, which sum, the bill states, represents the unexpended portion of the appropriation, to Dr. D. W. Bliss as full payment for his services as physician in charge of President Garfield's case.

SENATE SUBSTITUTE FOR THE MILLS BILL.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The Republican Senators, under the guidance of those who are on the Finance Committee, are agreed upon a substitute for the Mills bill. Its features are the repeal of the tobacco tax and the tax on alcohol used in the arts, and reduction of the sugar tax.

TO ELEVATE MANKIND.

Seventh National Convention of the Societies of Christian Endeavor in Chicago—How the Organization Has Grown.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Battery D was attractive yesterday morning with bright colors, flowers and bunting, but, more than all, with an assembly of nearly 4,000 people. From all parts of the United States they came to attend the seventh National convention of the Societies of Christian Endeavor, which is to continue four days. Very sensibly the organization of the convention had been completely arranged beforehand, and promptly at 10 o'clock the great meeting was called to order by the president, W. J. Van Patten, of Burlington, Vt.

The morning exercises were opened by devotional services, followed by music and addresses of welcome by Rev. E. D. Burr, representing Chicago churches; C. B. Holdredge, representing the Illinois Union; C. W. French, representing the Chicago Union, and L. W. Messer, representing the Young Men's Christian Association. President Van Patten responded on behalf of the convention, thanking the speakers for their kindly words and concluding by expressing a hope that the work of the societies and of the convention would be abundantly blessed by God, their chosen leader.

"Christian Endeavor Throughout America" was the next theme discussed, reports being given from all parts of the United States and the British provinces. New England reported a total of 1,217 societies, with a membership of 79,105. The Middle States have a total of 1,590 societies and 120,000 members, if to which is added Maryland and Delaware, the total will be swelled to 125,000. For the Northwest Rev. E. M. Noyes, of Duluth, Minn., said he was unable to give full statistics, but at the present time Minnesota has about 100 societies; Wisconsin, 150; Iowa, 195 and Dakota 50. Other sections of the country made favorable reports, and in brief the figures showed that the good work was progressing finely.

A Town Partially Destroyed.

LAKE CITY, Mich., July 6.—Fire broke out at midnight in the grocery store of Van Arsdale & Co., and swept Main street on both sides of two squares, doing $75,000 damage and destroying the entire business part of the town. There is scarcely any insurance. The town had no fire-fighting apparatus, and the fire was finally extinguished by help from Cadillac. The town is the county seat of Missaukee County, with a population of 500.

Mother and Son Killed.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 6.—Mrs. William Elwell, aged 65, tried to take her drunken son home last night. The latter insisted on having the right of way of a train on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh track; both were killed.

A Michigan Town's Misfortune.

McBRIDES, Mich., July 6.—The entire south side of Main street was swept by fire at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The hotel, post-office and several stores were burned. The loss is about $20,000.

Caused by the Fatal Fire-Cracker.

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—The business portion of Maumee was swept by fire at an early hour Wednesday morning. The fire is supposed to have been caused by fire-crackers. Loss, $10,000.

Deadly Fight with Pistols.

HOLMESTER, Col., July 6.—C. H. Waters, W. H. Stone and W. Stone, his son, engaged in a quarrel with pistols Wednesday. Waters is dead and the two Stones are mortally wounded.

For Congress.

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky., July 6.—Congressman Frank Finley, of the Eleventh Kentucky district, has been renominated by the Republicans.

DESOLATED SECTIONS.

The Path of Wednesday's Cyclone in Iowa Strewn with Debris.

FARM CROPS BEATEN INTO THE GROUND.

Buildings Demolished and Live Stock Killed—Several Lives Lost and a Number of Persons Injured by Storms in Other States.

WEDNESDAY'S CYCLONE.

MASON CITY, Ia., July 6.—A cyclone swept down upon a number of towns along the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road Wednesday. Ruthven was the first place struck. It is impossible to estimate the extent of the damage done there. The territory over which the storm passed is about 100 miles in length and nearly a mile in width. To the farming community along this tract the blow is severe. Up to the present time not a single death to a human being has been reported, but many horses and cattle were killed. At Ruthven the storm demolished two mammoth hay barns. An iron hay press weighing nearly 1,000 pounds was overturned. An agricultural-implement house belonging to Root & Walker was wrecked. Trapp Brothers' livery barn, the Kirkwood Hotel, the Methodist Episcopal church and Tom Gift's dwelling were all leveled to the ground. Many residences were damaged, and barns and outbuildings are scattered over the prairies. One horse was killed in the street by a scantling being driven completely through his body.

At Emmetsburg the wind blew a gale, but did not present the appearance of a cyclone. The Catholic church, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern depot and a number of residences were destroyed.

A TOWN SWEPT AWAY.

At Calendar a large hay barn and a water tank, all there was of the town, were completely demolished, and pieces of boards from the buildings were stuck in the ground, extending over an area of forty acres, resembling pins in a cushion.

At Whittemore some buildings were blown down, a number unroofed and many badly shaken up. The farming country between Whittemore and Ruthven looks desolate. The corn, which looked promising, is shorn to the ground, and other grain is damaged. The storm jumped over a section of country east from Whittemore, next visiting the south part of this county. At Meservey, Renke's store building was blown down and the large cattle barn belonging to Jake Missen was demolished. At Belmond the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern depot and a number of business and residence buildings were shattered. Route Agent Elliott, who came up from the south part of the State yesterday over the Iowa Central, says the crops along that road are damaged to the extent of $10,000.

AT OTHER POINTS IN IOWA.

WATERLOO, Ia., July 6.—A terrific wind and rain-storm through Cedar valley Wednesday did almost incalculable damage to grain. Barley, oats and corn suffered most. About 1,000 excursionists were camping along the banks of the Cedar, near this place, and all were subject to one of the fiercest storms known in this section for over ten years. A yacht carrying the Waterloo orchestra capsized and A. K. Fassett, of St. Louis, who accompanied the party, was rescued from the river with great difficulty. At Cedar Falls the large canning factory was unroofed, also the opera-house and numerous other dwellings. Eighteen houses and barns were partially or entirely demolished between Cedar Falls, seven miles distant, and Junction City, one and one-half miles from Cedar Falls. No serious damage was done here, the storm passing over at a great height. No loss of life was reported, but considerable stock was killed by lightning.

OTTUMWA, Ia., July 6.—Wednesday afternoon a sudden strong blow, accompanied by rain, passed over this entire country. It burst so suddenly upon the crowds of people celebrating in groves that thousands were drenched before reaching shelter. A good deal of damage was done by prostrating growing grain, especially oats. A hail-storm in the southern part of the county injured the apple crop.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 6.—Reports from different parts of the State show that Wednesday night's storm was very severe. Wires are down generally in this vicinity. Several houses were struck by lightning, but no lives were lost. The storm was very severe along the line of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road, washouts being so numerous that no trains reached this city over the "Q" yesterday. At Creston 1,000 feet of track were under water and a number of culverts were destroyed.

IN ILLINOIS AND ELSEWHERE.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., July 6.—The storm which passed over Rock Island County Wednesday afternoon was the most disastrous that has visited this section in years. The oat crop has suffered greatly. In the upper portion of Rock Island County the streams are swollen to an alarming extent, destroying public roads and in some instances causing a loss of stock. Wednesday night a farmer named Alvin Cox, while driving from a celebration in one township to his home in another, was caught in a freshet and with his horse drowned in the current of a stream that was hardly discernible in the morning.

PRINCETON, Ill., July 6.—The storm of wind and rain Wednesday night was unprecedented in this section. The growing corn was flattened to the ground and wheat and oats twisted in every direction. Large shade and fruit trees were blown down and a number of head of stock killed in the pastures by lightning. The damage is very great.

MOAWEQUA, Ill., July 6.—Julius Shay, of Prairie Home, this county, was instantly killed Wednesday night during the storm by a falling tree.

A LAND-SLIDE.

ELIZABETH, Ill., July 6.—A terrific storm visited this part of the State Wednesday night, with heavy wind and a deluge of rain. The cut of the Chicago, St. Paul & Kansas City railway, as it enters the tunnel nine miles west of here, was washed in, carrying the railway track ten feet deep with clay for a distance of 200 feet. Hundreds of men are at work cleaning the track. Passengers are transferred at the outlet of the tunnel to trains that run from Chicago, making all trains late.

STORM DISASTERS IN THE EAST.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 6.—A furious rain, hail and wind-storm passed over Albany at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. Three great rain-clouds appeared to meet directly over the city. Trees were blown down, yachts were wrecked in the river, awnings were ripped down and telephone wires twisted and crossed. During the storm a circus tent collapsed.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 6.—This section of the country was visited by a very severe wind and rain-storm yesterday afternoon. Great damage was done to crops and buildings. The Pennsylvania railroad round-house at Millstone Junction was blown down. James Barry, Hugh Garrigan and John White, three ball-players, who were taking shelter from the storm, were buried in the ruins. Garrigan had an arm and leg broken. Barry was badly bruised and had a leg broken. A barn on George Plumly's farm, near Middlebush, was also blown down. Plumly is reported killed. He was buried with the others under the ruins. The dwelling and other buildings on the farm were wrecked. Terrible damage is reported everywhere hereabouts from wind, hail and lightning, also at Middlebush and Millstone.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 5.—The severest wind, hail, rain, thunder and lightning storm experienced in this city for many years prevailed yesterday afternoon. Bartholomew Reagan and John Armstrong were struck by lightning and killed. The rain fell in torrents, choking the sewers and flooding the streets and cellars to the depth of several feet in many parts of the city.

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—The Lackawanna valley was visited yesterday afternoon by the most furious storm ever known there. At Jermyville and Robertown hail-stones larger than walnuts fell. The fruit trees were stripped of their limbs and leaves and all growing gardens and crops totally destroyed.

STORM AT YOUNGSTOWN.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 6.—A destructive storm visited Youngstown, O., Wednesday night, washing out culverts and damaging streets, entailing a loss of $5,000. The tracks of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio, and the Ashtabula & Pittsburgh roads were washed out in many places and trains badly delayed. James Davey and family were overtaken by the storm a few miles from Youngstown and he attempted to ford a stream with his 4-year old son in his arms. The current was too strong, however, and the child was swept away and drowned.

CAME TO A TRAGIC END.

A Trip for Pleasure Results in the Drowning of Three Persons.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 6.—A day's enjoyment at Lake Johanna came to a tragic end yesterday afternoon when Henry Tucker, night clerk at the Ryan Hotel; his father, a man 61 years of age, and Mrs. Stephen D. Dysinger, whose husband is book-keeper for L. L. May & Co., met their death by drowning. Mr. Tucker, Sr., lives at Amsterdam, N. Y., and came to St. Paul to visit his son. The party were out to spend the day picnicking. Mrs. Tucker and her little child were afraid to venture out on the water and were left on shore, while the rest of the party secured a boat and went out fishing. They were out 200 feet from the shore when the boat capsized and its occupants were thrown into the water. The only witness to the accident was a small boy on the shore. He started to secure aid, but when it came it was too late.

Illuminating Mount Hood.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 6.—The illumination of Mount Hood Wednesday night proved a perfect success. At 11 o'clock the illumination was seen very distinctly on the summit and continued to burn brightly for a space of over two and one-half minutes. The sight was a very brilliant one and was seen for a radius of 100 miles. All efforts to secure signals from the party on the mountain proved futile. A letter just received from the party states that they encountered a very heavy snowstorm and suffered much from the severity of the weather.

A Lynching in Alabama.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 6.—The body of Mrs. Calvin Moody, who has been missing from Moulton, Ala., since last Friday, was found Wednesday half a mile from her home covered with leaves and with the throat cut from ear to ear. Moody was arrested on suspicion. There was much feeling in the community, and at night a mob broke into the jail, took Moody to the woods, and lynched him.

Entertained by the Lord Mayor.

LONDON, July 6.—The Lord Mayor gave a banquet at the Mansion House Wednesday evening to the Bishops attending the Pan-Anglican conference. The Bishop of Minnesota, replying to the Bishops of the United States and the colonies, said that Christians in America stood shoulder to shoulder with churches in the United Kingdom in the Christian work before them.

Three Boys Drowned.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—A river excursion party from St. Louis stopped yesterday morning at Harrison's Landing, on the Illinois shore below here, and three St. Louis boys who were in the party went bathing in a small stream and were drowned. One was Henry Deamner, son of a restaurant-keeper, and the other two were named Sessman and Kelly respectively. The bodies were not recovered.

Thieves Raid a Town.

HUDSON, Wis., July 6.—Wednesday afternoon Sheriff Campbell received word that thieves had raided the village of Star Prairie, a town fifteen miles from this place. They broke into all the stores and blew open every safe in the town. After finishing their work they stole a horse and carriage belonging to a resident and made their escape. They secured considerable plunder.

Killed the Mayor.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 6.—At Genda Springs, Kan., three negro desperadoes set up a bar in a corn-field adjoining the grounds where the Fourth of July celebration was held, and when Mayor Kenyon and Justice Furry interfered they were fired upon, the mayor being killed and Furry badly wounded. The desperadoes escaped and a posse of citizens is in pursuit.

William's Trip to St. Petersburg.

BERLIN, July 6.—Emperor William will probably start for Russia on the 11th instant. He will remain in St. Petersburg four days. The Czar's reception of General Van Pape is much approved in political circles here. The Czar's letter to Emperor William is cordial and friendly.

Latest Returns from the Mexican Flood.

EL PASO, Tex., July 6.—The third train out from the City of Mexico since the flood at Leon has arrived. The washout occurred at intervals for 100 miles, but no bridges were destroyed. The latest accounts place the number of drowned at 700.

Killed His Son and Himself.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 6.—Wednesday afternoon John Johnson, a farmer living near Hamlin, accidentally killed his son, aged 21, who had come home for a visit. He then, in anguish, killed himself.

Chicago's Population.

CHICAGO, July 6.—The new city directory, a volume of 2,275 pages, is out. According to the calculation of the publishers, the list of names given indicates a population in this city of 870,000 people.

O'Donnell Loses.

LONDON, July 6.—The trial for the suit for libel brought by Mr. O'Donnell against the London Times ended in a verdict for the newspaper.

Fastest Train in the World.

LONDON, July 3.—A train has been put on the Great Northern railway which will make the journey from this city to Edinburgh in eight and a half hours. This, it is believed, is the fastest train in the world. Trains on the London & Northwestern road have, for some time, been making the run to Edinburgh in nine hours, and it is to enter into competition with this line that the Great Northern road has started its fast train.

Ring the Bells.

CINCINNATI, July 3.—Mayor Smith has sent out to the mayors of cities and towns of the Ohio valley and of the "territory northwest of the river Ohio" a request to cause the ringing of the bells in their respective cities and towns and the firing of cannon at midnight July 3, and in that way join the citizens of Cincinnati in commemorating the 100th anniversary of the settlement of the vast territory northwest of the river Ohio.

Their Business Boom.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Frank Sherer & Co's Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Twenty American fishing schooners went into port at Gaspe, Que., Wednesday, where they celebrated the Fourth.

By the explosion of a cannon at Elk Rapids, Mich., Wednesday, Johnson Ding had both hands blown off and his eyes put out.

Mr. Parnell has denied that any of the letters published by the London Times in its "Parnellism and Crime" are authentic.

Charles Beraeingwas arrested at Rouse's Point, N. Y., Wednesday. He is charged with the embezzlement of $5,000 from his employer, James Street, of Montreal, Que.

Officers of the Western Union in New York say that they do not apprehend a strike of telegraph operators. An agitation against a reduction of wages is being carried on.

The Francis Scott Key monument at San Francisco, the gift of the late James Lick, was unveiled on the Fourth. The statue was of bronze, was executed at Rome and cost $60,000.

The National Conference of Charities and Correction began its fifteenth annual conference Thursday evening at Buffalo, President Charles S. Hoyt, of Albany, delivering his annual address.

AERONAUTS DOUSED.

A Party of Balloonists Rescued After Being Dragged Through Three Miles of Salt Water.

BOSTON, July 6.—The balloon which ascended from the Common at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening descended in the harbor off Point Shirley. The occupants were submerged, and for three miles or more were dragged through the water at a rapid pace by the balloon, which was impelled by a strong gale. They were sighted by the steam yacht Rose G., and the latter, after a stern chase, succeeded in overtaking the balloonists and making fast the drag rope to her capstan. After much trouble the party was taken aboard and all were safely brought to this city. The journey was a most perilous one, and the escape from death of the excursionists miraculous.

THE NATIONAL PASTIME.

Scores in the Various Base-Ball Games Played on Thursday.

National League games on Thursday resulted as follows: At Chicago—Chicago, 4; Philadelphia, 3. At Detroit—Detroit, 18; New York, 13. At Pittsburgh—Washington, 3; Pittsburgh, 2. At Indianapolis—Indianapolis, 10; Boston, 7.

The Iron-Workers' Lock-Out.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 6.—Last night Moorehead & Bros., iron manufacturers, of Sharpsburg, Pa., signed the Amalgamated scale, making sixteen signatures so far. The Republic iron works, Oliver Bros., and Phipps & Carnegie's mills started yesterday. None of the mills, however, were in full operation, and it will probably be two weeks before the various firms that have conceded the demands of the workmen will have their plants in full blast.

Sheridan's Improvement.

DELAWARE BREAKWATER, Del., July 6.—General Sheridan has rapidly recovered from his attack and is now as well as before leaving Hampton Roads. His pulse and respiration are good and his appetite is improving fast, and assimilation is apparently excellent. His condition is such as to permit of the resumption of his voyage as soon as the indications are that a comparatively smooth run can be made from the capes to Sandy Hook.

Rich Gold Find at Victoria, B. C.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 6.—The Glazier bay district is attracting a little attention. Several good claims have been located at Webster. The property is showing some very good quartz. A tunnel has been driven in about forty-five feet and a well-defined body of quartz has been struck which carries free gold. All assays are very flattering.

Couldn't Agree on a Ticket.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 6.—The Arkansas State Prohibition convention adjourned sine die yesterday without having nominated a State ticket. William Grace and J. S. Van Meter were chosen electors-at-large.

The Opening of the Campaign.

To open the campaign with any hopes of speedy success, attack the enemy, malaria, before it has a chance to intrench. An obstinate foe 'twill prove if you don't go right at it. If you are prudent, too, you will have fortified, upon the first intimation of its presence in your neighborhood. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the medicinial ammunition that you require. Every form of malarial fever yields to this fine preventive and remedy For constipation, liver complaint, dyspepsia, nervousness and kidney trouble it is no less effective. Residents of malarial localities, and persons sojourning in or bound for the great west, should select this medicine as a means of defence against the frequent visitations of miasma. Those in delicate health, the aged and enfeebled, should in every instance resort to this signal invigorant. Use it for weak nerves.

Advice to Mothers.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. 25c a bottle.

Can't Sleep!

Sleeplessness and fearful dreams are the earliest and surest signs of brain exhaustion. In healthy sleep brain force is being stored up to meet the next day's demands. But nowadays the nervous system has been so overtasked that it is unable to control the mind, and at night the worries, troubles, and work are as present as during the day. Hence the brain has not time to recuperate its energies. The proper medical remedies are sedatives, nerve tonics, laxatives, and regulators of the general functions. Coca and celery are the sedatives and nerve tonic demanded, and in Paine's Celery Compound their full beneficial effect is obtained. It also contains, in scientific proportions, the best remedies of the materia medica for constipation, and kidney and liver disorders. This is a brief description of the medicine which has brought sweet rest to thousands who tossed in sleeplessness from night to morning, or whose morbid dreams caused them to awake more tired than ever. All nervous, sleepless, debilitated or aged people will find vigor and perfect health in the great nerve tonic, PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND. Price $1.00. Sold by Druggists. Circulars free.

a man for groaning when he has Rheumatism or Neuralgia. The pain is simply awful. No torture in the ancient times was more painful than these twin diseases. But—oughtn't a man to be blamed if, having Rheumatism or Neuralgia, he wont use Ath-lo-pho-ros, when it has cured thousands who have suffered in the same way? It has cured hundreds after physicians have pronounced them incurable.

"The skill of five physicians could not cure me of Rheumatism which had settled in the hips, neck and shoulders. So intense was the pain that sleep was almost impossible. The first dose of Athlophoros gave me relief, and the third enabled me to sleep for four and a half hours without waking. I continued its use, and am now well."

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the skin was raw. Body covered with scales like spots of mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the 1st of last April I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, then the next night the scales being formed, meanwhile, were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuticura Remedies, and purchased them from my druggist, and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the disease thirteen months before I began taking the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them, and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.

Catharral Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed, to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

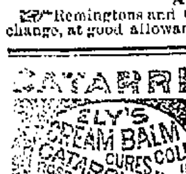

Sanford's Radical cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catharral Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

RELIGIOUS REPORT.

The Protestant citizens of Madrid, Spain, were recently condemed to six months' imprisonment for refusing to kneel before the viaticum.

During the past year there has been an increase of nearly one million native communicants to all the Christian churches in the heathen lands.

The net gain in the membership of the thirty Congregational churches of Rhode Island during the past year is stated at 232, bringing the total up to 6,432.

The Religious Herald says that 28,000 of the 38,000 new members added to the New York Baptist churches in the past eight years came from the Sunday-schools.

Twenty-five years ago there was not a professing Christian in Shantung, China. Now there are three hundred places where Christians meet regularly on the Sabbath.

The eleventh World's Conference of Young Men's Christian Associations is to be held in Stockholm this summer. These conferences are usually held once in three years. The last one was in Berlin in the summer of 1884.

London has a Christian Police Association with a membership of four thousand. It is only five years since the association was started, and it has prospered beyond expectations. It contains at present one hundred and fifty-three branches, which extend as far as Singapore, Tasmania, South Africa and Canada.

It is stated that there are 600,000 men in Illinois between the ages of sixteen and forty, of whom 550,000 are not members of the Evangelical churches. This statement, made on the authority of the Y. M. C. A., is hard to believe. The same organization says several churches exist without a single male member.

One of the marked features of the Bible-studying movement of the present day is the summer school of college students at Mr. Moody's home in Northfield, Mass. For now two years this gathering has been a large one, including representatives from the leading colleges and universities of America and England. Arrangements are in progress for a similar gathering the present year, and it is probable that the attendance will be larger than before.

"The growth of the church in this country is slow," said Rev. Prof. Andrews, of Brown University, in the course of the anniversary address which he recently delivered at the Newton Theological institution. "Many excellent people are indifferent to religious matters. There are many unbelievers, and the church seems to have lost the control over men it once exerted. The world may be getting better, but greater numbers of men are departing from the restraining Christian influence. The Gospel seems to be marking time rather than marching onward."

It has been said that because the tea was thrown overboard in Boston harbor, the people of that city have had ever since a sort of sank-tea-monious air about them.

A robust countryman, meeting a physician, ran to hide himself behind a wall; being asked the cause, he replied: "It is so long since I have been sick that I am ashamed to look a physician in the face."

"She did wrong to look back, didn't she, Bessie?" "Yes, mamma." "And what do you think Lot did when he saw his poor wife turned into a pillar of salt?" "I don't know, mamma; I 'spec he wondered where he could get a fresh one."

A "legitimate" barn-stormer recently returned to the city on foot after an unsuccessful starring tour in Shakespeare characters. A friend accosted him, and asked what luck he had had. "Luck?" the actor replied. "Why, down there in Jayville, Jay County, I played to four kerosene lamps, and two of those went out after the first act."

A bereaved husband was told by a friend that his sympathies were taxed to the utmost by the overwhelming sorrow he had manifested during the funeral services at the house. The afflicted man inquired: "Did you go to the cemetery?" Being told no, he added: "Ah! the house was nothing; you ought to have seen me at the cemetery."

A French physician once sent his man with a box of pills to a patient, and a hamper containing six live pullets to be left at the house of a friend. Unluckily the messenger bungled over his errand, and took the hamper to the patient and the pills to his master's friend. Imagine the consternation of the patient on receiving along with the fowls the following prescription: "Two of these to be swallowed every half-hour."

SOMEWHAT COSTLY.

The late Mrs. Morgan paid $250,000 for her necklace. Mrs. Hicks-Lord is the owner of a diamond necklace which cost $250,000.

Sir Donald Smith, of Montreal, is the owner of the costliest piano ever made in this country. It cost, when landed in Montreal, $27,000.

Sir Donald Smith is the possessor of the highest-priced painting in Canada, "The Communicants," by Jules Breton. Cost at the Seney sale $45,000.

Mr. J. W. Mackay furnished about $75,000 in weight of silver, and paid $120,000 for the work on his dinner service, which thus represents $195,000.

The highest-priced piano in America is owned by Mr. H. G. Marquind, of New York City. The case, which was built in London, was designed and painted by Alma Tadema. It cost $46,00

Mr. J. F. Irwin, of Oswego, paid $10,000 for a Bible. It was originally in three volumes, but by the insertion of wood-cuts, manuscripts, engravings and etchings had been expanded to sixty imperial folio volumes.

Mr. W. W. Corcoran, of Washington, paid the highest recorded price for an American picture. It is Church's "Niagara," and the price was $13,000. It was reported that Legrand Lockwood paid $25,000 for Bierstadt's "Domes of the Yosemite," but as at the distribution of his effects the picture brought less than $6,500 the first price was probably a fable.

Labor Organizations to Unite.

Baltimore, Md., July 3.—A State conference of all labor organizations in Maryland was held here Sunday to form a conference body of all labor organizations, including the Federation of Labor, district assemblies Knights of Labor and the German Central Labor Unions, which would unify labor and add to its strength. There were present sixty-five delegates, representing fifty-eight organizations. A committee was appointed to prepare a plan for a permanent organization.

IN FIGHTING TRIM.

The Baltimore Convention of Democratic Clubs Adjourns.

WORK OF THURSDAY'S SESSION.

The Objects of the Organization Briefly Summarized—Officers Elected, with Chauncey F. Black, of Pennsylvania, as President.

WILL PULL TOGETHER.

Baltimore, Md., July 6.—The convention of Democratic clubs held its second session yesterday morning at the Academy of Music. William E. Russell, of Massachusetts, the temporary chairman, called the convention to order at 10:30 o'clock. The report of the Committee on Resolutions, which was adopted by acclamation, indorses the St. Louis platform, approves the administration of President Cleveland and his tariff message, expresses joy at the prospect of the early passage of the Mills bill, and points with pride to the record of Allen G. Thurman. Hon. John A. Winans, of Wisconsin, was unanimously chosen president of the convention.

Hon. Timothy E. Tarsney, of Michigan, chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization, made the report of that committee, and submitted the constitution of the National Association of Democratic Clubs. The plan proposed was for the selection of a president, one vice-president from each State and Territory, one secretary and a treasurer. The following names were recommended for officers of the association: President, Hon. Chauncey F. Black, of Pennsylvania; Secretary, Edward B. Whitney, of New York; Treasurer, George H. Lambert, of New Jersey. The object of the association, according to the constitution, is as follows:

"To foster the formation of permanent Democratic clubs and societies in the United States; to insure active co-operation in the dissemination of Jeffersonian principles of Government; to preserve the constitution of the United States and the autonomy of the States; to uphold local self-government, resist revolutionary changes, centralization of power, and the appropriation of public moneys for other than the purposes of government economically administered; to oppose commercial restrictions for the benefit of a few at the cost of the many, and to oppose class legislation which despoils labor and builds up monopolies. The affairs of the association are to be managed by a general committee of four from each State and Territory, with the officers of the association. The conventions of the association shall be held every fourth year, subsequent to the National Democratic convention, and a two-thirds vote of the general committee shall call a special meeting. Each club or society will be entitled to one additional delegate for every 100 members in good standing, no club to have more than five delegates. When the clubs or societies of any State or Territory have formed a State or Territorial association such association shall be entitled to eleven delegates-at-large."

The constitution was unanimously adopted and vice-presidents were chosen.

Mr. Flattery, of Massachusetts, offered a resolution extending sympathy to the Irish home rulers, which was adopted amid applause and cheers.

The Committee on Resolutions reported that the majority did not think it expedient to report on the Chinese resolution of the St. Louis platform. It was further reported that there was a minority report upon the Chinese resolution. Ex Representative Willis, of Kentucky, a member of the Committee on Resolutions and the gentleman who had offered the Chinese resolution, stated that the difference in the committee was merely one of propriety. Unwilling to do any thing to mar the harmony of the convention, he refrained from submitting a minority report.

It was ordered that the officers of the new organization be a committee to call upon President Cleveland and Mr. Thurman.

Senator Kenna, of West Virginia, congratulated the assemblage upon the happy result of its deliberations.

A resolution commending the re-election of William H. Barnum as chairman of the National Committee was adopted unanimously.

After passing a number of votes of thanks and giving three cheers for Chairman Winans as the next Governor of Wisconsin, the convention adjourned sine die.

A DYNAMITE PLOT.

Former Employes of the C. B. & Q. Road Arrested on a Charge of Conspiracy to Blow Up the Property of the Company.

Chicago, July 6.—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway company procured the arrest of three of its former employes yesterday upon what is thought to be a conspiracy to blow up its property with dynamite. The men arrested are Thomas Broderick and J. A. Bowles, two former engineers, and John Q. Wilson, whose identity has not yet been clearly established. The arrests were made on a passenger train at Aurora, Ill. Concealed about the persons of the alleged conspirators were a number of dynamite cartridges, each containing about a pound of dynamite. There is considerable circumstantial evidence, going to prove that it was the intention of the men to destroy and injure the property of the company in revenge for the failure of the late strike. They were brought before United States Commissioner Hoyne, in this city, and committed under bonds of $5,000 each.

Big Blazes in the Far West.

Marysville, Cal., July 6.—A fire broke out here early yesterday morning in the block in which the most valuable business houses in the city are located. The fire continued to spread for two hours, and the whole block, with the exception of two buildings, was destroyed. The total loss is about $170,000; insurance estimated at $90,000.

Elmiro, Col., July 6.—Fire destroyed half the business portion of this town yesterday afternoon. Some half a dozen business houses, with their contents, were consumed. The loss is estimated at $75,000; insurance only $600.

Chemical Works Damaged by Fire.

Chicago, July 6.—Chapman & Green's chemical works, South Chicago, were destroyed by fire early yesterday morning. The fire is supposed to have originated among the chemicals and involves a loss of $50,000, partially covered by insurance.

He Can't Get Well.

Madison, Wis., July 6.—While bathing Wednesday Charles Colton, of Milwaukee, dived and struck his head against the bottom with such force as to dislocate his neck. He is still alive, but can not recover.

Vanderbilt's Noble Gift.

New York, July 6.—The new Jackson square branch of the New York free circulating library, a gift of George Vanderbilt, has been thrown open to the public. The gift represents an outlay of about $50,000.

Nearly a dozen cattle have died near Tipton, Ind., within two days, supposedly from Texas fever.

The Verdict Unanimous

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousand of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Frank Sherer & Co's.

For the relief and cure of the inflammation and congestion called "a cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brilliant success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on record of radical cures of chronic catarrh and hay fever after all other modes of treatment have proved of no avail.

FIRESIDE FRAGMENTS.

Common soft soap rubbed on mildew stains and then exposed to the sun will take them out entirely.

A sponge saturated with strong carbolic acid and suspended in the room is one of various popular expedients for inducing the omnipresent fly to take its departure.

Plush goods and all articles dyed with aniline colors, faded from exposure to the light, will look as bright as ever after sponging with chloroform. The commercial chloroform will answer the purpose very well, and is less expensive than the purified.

A pretty lambrequin for curtains is of two or more shades of satin arranged in a row, the colors blending. Three rows are sufficient, or they can be made to form three points, the center point longer than the other two. They are prettier if beads are sewn on the points.

Lemonade from juice of the lemon is one of the best and safest drinks for any person, whether in health or not. It is suitable for all stomach diseases, gravel, liver complaint, inflammation of the bowels and fever. It is a specific against worms and skin complaints. Lemon juice is the best anti-scorbutic remedy known.

Oatmeal in water is said to be one of the best drinks in the world for a working-man, especially in warm weather. It is nutritive, satisfying and agreeable to the stomach. It costs but little, and the small outlay is repaid in the form of increased ability to perform labor either physical or mental.

For persons troubled with indigestion, beef sandwiches, prepared as follows, are highly recommended: Chop very finely a piece of tender, uncooked beefsteak, season with salt and pepper, and spread between thin slices of light buttered bread. Remove the crusts with a sharp knife, and cut into neat diamonds or squares.

The tonic effect of bathing is caused by the contraction of the surface blood-vessels, which drives the blood back to the larger blood-vessels and the heart. These react and send the blood rushing back to the skin, causing the glow which follows it, the free respiration, and the vigorous feeling of the muscular system. The bath should always be followed by friction with the hand, a brush or a towel.

"The common practice of raising fainting persons to a sitting or upright position, is often sufficient," says the Medical Journal, "to destroy the spark of life which remains. The death of an eminent English statesman a short time ago gave opportunity to the coroner for emphasizing this fact, and of pointing out how much more reasonable and sound it is to keep such persons in the prone position while restoratives and local means are adopted to enable them, if possible, to regain consciousness."

Chamois skin that is washed in water becomes stiff and harsh. But it can be washed and yet remain soft and pliable by the following method: Use a weak solution of soda and warm water, rub plenty of soft soap into the leather, and allow it to soak for two hours, then rub it sufficiently and rinse in a weak solution of warm water, soda and yellow soap. If rinsed in water only it will be unfit for use when dry. After rinsing wring it out in a rough towel and dry quickly. Then pull it about and brush it well.

A WARNING.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous, and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose your own life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by Administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea without the knowledge of the person taking it; is absolutely harmless, and will effect a speedy and permanent cure, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an alcoholic wreck. Thousands of drunkards have been made temperate men who have taken Golden Specific in their coffee without their knowledge and to-day believe they quit drinking of their own free will. IT NEVER FAILS. The system once impregnated with the Specific, it becomes an utter impossibility for the liquor appetite to exist. For sale by FRANK SHERER, Druggist, 43 W. COMPLIMENTS OF THE GAZETTE

The Gazette Printing Company has just printed a handsome little map of the city of Janesville, showing the location of the water works pipe lines, fire hydrants, fire alarm boxes, the fire limits' the pipe lines of the Janesville Gas Light company and the location of the gas lamps. It is printed in a convenient form for hanging up in the counting room or at the desks in business houses, offices and dwellings, and is intended for free distribution among the patrons of the Gazette Printing Company.

—Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, Ancient Order of United Workmen, assemble in regular meeting this evening—lodge room in Smith the block, East Milwaukee street.

—People's Lodge No. 460, Independent Order of Good Templars, assemble in regular weekly session this evening—lodge room in the Court Street M. E. church block.

—New houses are springing up in all parts of the city. The demand for medium-priced residence property has grown until it considerably exceeds the supply.

—"Bob" Stewart's livery stable record "White Stockings," came out of the St. Paul races with considerable glory. He won a $2000 purse in the 2:21 trot making a mile in 2:18½.

—A glance at the depot platforms now-a-days would make people believe bread and ice cream were Janesville's principal products. Cream freezers and baker's shipping cases are piled up in every baggage car.

—Ground has been broken for the addition to the first ward school building. Work is now being pushed forward as rapidly as possible, it being expected that the addition will be finished inside of seventy days.

—T. D. Snow, formerly conductor on the Milwaukee & St. Paul through this city, returned to his duties as conductor on the Illinois Central to-day, after spending the Fourth with his family in the first ward.

—W. S. Boles, one of Bloomington's leading merchant tailors, is visiting in this city, accompanied by his wife and children. Mr. and Mrs. Boles have many friends among Janesville people, their home formerly having been in this city.

—Mr. Geo. F. Smith left yesterday for Chadron, Nebraska. He has received the appointment of assistant train dispatcher of the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railway, with headquarters at Chadron, and will enter on his duty at once.

—The Janesville Concordia society are making extensive arrangements for their annual picnic to take place on July 23d, at some point up the river not yet definitely settled. This will be one of the pleasant picnics of the season.

—Miss Lucy J. Leland, of Elkhorn, who has been visiting in the city the guest of Miss Mary Wilcox, 55 Linn street, returned to her home to-day. Miss Leland was accompanied by Miss Wilcox, who will spend a few weeks at Geneva, Delavan and Green Lakes.

—Janesville people visiting Geneva Lake will find a very convenient route to be by way of Sharon. F. J. Gibbons bus which began running to-day, meets the Chicago accommodation morning and evening, carrying passengers to and from the lake at very reasonable rates.

—Remember the reunion of the "Merry" and "Terpsichorean" clubs at Pope's Springs, on Monday afternoon next. The Mayflower will leave her dock at foot of Race street, west side, at three o'clock sharp. For particulars inquire at Heimstreet's or Stearns & Baker's drug store.

—Mr. G. A. Lamphier, recently of Whitewater, is arranging to open a hardware store in the Mitchell block, West Milwaukee street. He is receiving a large and well selected stock of goods in this line of trade; is a live and industrious business man, and will no doubt receive a liberal share of public patronage.

—E. C. Johnson is nothing if not progressive. When something in the line of improvements is not going on about the Park House he is unhappy. His latest is the addition of a complete gas plant. The plant is now being put in and will soon be in shape to furnish gas for the entire house.

—There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Republican Club, at the club rooms, on Saturday evening, July 7th, at eight o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested. The committee consist of Messrs. D. P. Smith, O. F. Nowlan, James A. Fathers, Wilson Lane, C. E. Pierce, S. B. Smith and T. W. Goldin.

—Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Ellen Kinney were held in St. Patrick's church this morning. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dean McGinnity, and were attended by many relatives and friends of the deceased. The interment was at St. Patrick's cemetery, Richard Nash, Thomas Welsh, William Norton, Daniel Griffin and Timothy Teehan acting as pall bearers.

—Miss Blanche Inman, whose injury was mentioned in the Gazette yesterday, is in a fair way to recovery. It appears that she was preparing to explode a tin can full of powder. The fuse held fire and as Miss Inman picked up the can to investigate there was a flash and the contents of the can blew out into her face with terrible force. She was badly burned, but only one eye was injured and that not seriously. Miss Inman is a sister of Mrs. Floyd Murdock, of this city.

—Col. W. B. Britton to-day retired from the firm of Britton & Kimball of which he has so long been a member. The firm will hereafter be Kimball & Hall, Col. Britton's interest having been purchased by Mr. James J. Hall. Mr. Hall is a man of much experience in the furniture business having represented one of the largest furniture establishments in the west for years as traveling salesman. Col. Britton's withdrawal was made on account of his health, retirement from active business life having become unavoidable.

—Again and again people doing business near the openings of the East Milwaukee street sewer, are "loud" in their call for the health officer to abate the nuisance or do something to remove the stench escaping from such openings. One gentleman, standing near the opening at the bridge this morning, suggested that the members of the board of health be corralled at that point and not allowed to leave until the nuisance was abated. "It's an awful thing to endure all summer," said another; and the conversation ended by another person suggesting the idea of removing to a healthier portion of the city. It is evident that if the board of health do not remove the cause of all this trouble, the east end of Milwaukee street bridge as well as the east corners of Main and Milwaukee streets, will lose all attractions as a resort for street-loafing.

—State Superintendent Thayer has completed arrangements for the trip to the meeting of the National Teachers association, which convenes in San Francisco, July 17. It is thought by Mr. Thayer that about forty-five teachers and educators will be in attendance from this state. A special car—the Yellowstone—will leave Madison to-morrow over the Northwestern road, via Milwaukee to Omaha, on board of which, before leaving this state, will be Superintendent Thayer, wife and daughter, and Prof. and Mrs. T. H. Brand, of Madison; Horace S. Fisk, of Platteville; Miss Rosaline A. Hatheral, of this city; Miss Rose C. Stewart, Miss Mae Schreiber, Mrs. George S. Albee and Nancy M. Davis, of Oshkosh; Alice H. Shultes, of River Falls; Emeline M. B. Felt, of Platteville; Mrs. Ada R. Cook and Harriet A. Salisbury, of Whitewater; M. A. Thayer and daughter, of Sparta, and others. The Wisconsin party will be absent about three weeks. The return trip will be made via the Mt. Shasta route, on the Northern Pacific railway.

THE RIFLE CONTEST.

The Militiamen Shooting at Targets in Beloit.

The Beloit Free Press publishes the following account of the "Rifle Contest" in that city on the Fourth:—

"The commander of the City Guard invited a rifle team from the Janesville Light Infantry to visit this city yesterday and participate in a range shoot, and an interesting contest therefore took place about 2 o'clock near the lower bridge. The scores were not very creditable to either team and the visitors were the victors. The teams were not selected because of their special ability as marksmen, but were hastily organized for the occasion. The Beloit team had little hope of defeating the visitors and the match was not arranged with such expectations, but to secure the practice and experience of a contest, as it is very desirable on the part of the state department that range shooting take place.

The scores were as follows:

JANESVILLE TEAM—
Private C. Burdick	0	0	0	0	0—0
Private A. Campbell	2	3	3	0	2—10
Private J. Corning	3	3	2	4	4—16
Private F. H. Roger	4	0	0	2	2—8
Private L. T. Richardson	3	5	4	4	0—16
Sergt. Chas. Barnard	0	2	2	4	0—8
Corp'l. Leo Rooney	3	2	2	2	0—6
Orderly G. G. Paris	4	3	3	3	2—15
BELOIT TEAM—
Lieut. F. W. Parsons	3	2	3	4	4—16
Private H. Holden	4	3	2	3	0—12
Private M. Lunn	2	4	0	3	4—13
Private Carlson	0	0	2	0	2—4
Private F. Dahlberg	0	2	2	0	2—6
Private S. Westcott	0	4	2	0	0—6

The Citizen says: "Among the attractions yesterday afternoon was a friendly contest between the Janesville and Beloit rifle teams. Notwithstanding the fact that Janesville's representatives were unskilled in the use of the rifle, yet there was skill enough to down the Beloit riflemen by a score of 81 to 63. Each team consisted of six men, Janesville sending down 8, and the best possible score was 25 runs for each man or a total of 150. The Janesville team were quite jubilant over their success."

WATERING HORSES.

The hot season of the year, says the DesMoines Register, is at hand, when the faithful horses will have to make long days. We bespeak for them fair treatment. They require water as frequently, when laboring hard, as a man and they suffer as much when it is withheld in feeling and in flesh, as does the human brute, who slakes his thirst every hour in the hot day, when the dumb brute has frequently to go five or six hours without a drink. A pail of water in the middle of the forenoon and afternoon, would save much suffering preserve the health and enable the horses to do much labor. Five hours is to long for a horse, laboring hard in a hot day, to go without water. And the civilization of the age and humanitarianism of improved man, demand that better provision should be made for watering horses at work on farms. Old fashioned stage coach managers, as well as roadsters, or drivers of carriages at the present day, all treat their horses better than to push them hard on a hot day for five or six hours without water. And good or merciful drivers ought to give horses equally as good treatment.

MAIMED FOR LIFE.

A Twelve Year Old Boy Terribly Mutilated by a Mower Blade.

One Foot Cut Off Just Below the Instep: the Other Badly Torn.

A distressing accident occurred at Johnstown last evening, the twelve-year old son of John Kelly being maimed for life by a mower.

Mr. Cole, one of Kelly's neighbors, was just finishing a day's mowing and one of his horses seemed inclined to shirk. Young Kelly was running along close to the machine and Mr. Cole asked him to hurry the lagging horse a little with a stick.

The boy picked up a switch and ran around to where he could reach the animal—getting almost in front of the sickle, He struck the horse and at the same moment jumped back to get out of the way, but fell almost directly on the swift moving blade. When he was picked up a moment later one foot had been cut entirely off between ankle and instep. The other was also terribly cut but the larger bones had not been severed.

The little sufferer's cries were piteous. As soon as possible he was taken to a house and medical aid summoned. The outcome of the injuries is not yet known.

JULY MAGAZINE NOTES.

What Publishers Offer for Summer Reading.

The Lothrop publications for the current month are as full of interest as ever. No better magazines for young people are published, as their constantly-growing popularity attests.

The July Table Talk is emphatically a hot weather magazine. Mr. Whitton's opening poem, "The Editor's Midsummer Day's Dream" has plenty of poetry in it but it also has enough truth, whatever the effect may be upon the average reader, to touch the average editor on a very tender spot. Notwithstanding its open cruelty, however, the writer has our sympathy. The contents of the magazine are varied, and as usual, very readable even with the thermometer among the nineties.

In the American Magazine for July, Wilfred Patterson has an article descriptive of the art collection of Mr. William T. Waters, of Baltimore. This collection is one of the very finest of the modern French school, and the article is profusely illustrated from photographs of the leading pictures, including Meissonier's celebrated "1814" and Alma Tadema's "Sappho."

The July number of the Season is brilliant as usual. It may certainly claim to be a first class ladies' fashion magazine. Each number contains about 170 illustrations of the newest Parish fashions and the most elegant designs in fancy work, embroidery, crochet and needle-work; plain sewing and lace work; lace stitch on muslin, cambric and tulle, etc.; Irish point laces, darning on tulle, filagree on linen, etc. The information given is plain, comprehensive and practical.

BACKING WATER.

Democrats Good on Bluff—Slow to Put Up Money.

NEW YORK, July 5.—As soon as the news of the nomination of Harrison reached Wall street last week, Addison Cammack posted A. H. Coombs over to the floor of the stock exchange to bet $1,000 to $600 as many times as he could get takers that Mr. Cleveland would be elected. The disposition to close with Mr. Cammack's offer was not general at first, and up to Wednesday or Thursday Coombs was only able to invest about $2,400 on behalf of his principal. During the time the offer was open Mr. Coombs declared that he had $25,000 which he was authorized to place at the terms named. This week some of the more enthusiastic republicans have asserted that they are looking for wagers at the odds offered at first by Mr. Coombs and that they are not able to find them. William B. Dowd, of Alley, Dowd & Co., says there is $35,000 of republican money ready for production at a moment's notice if anybody will come forward and take the place which he claims has been vacated by Cammack and his representative.

WERE THEY ALL VAGRANTS?

This is the Question Asked Ex-Justice Kellogg.

Ex Police Justice DeWitt Kellogg's suit against Rock county occupied the circuit court to-day. Mr. Kellogg sues for twenty-three dollars of fee money which he claims is owed him by the county.

When Justice Kellogg sent in his bill to the county last winter it included $81 for fees in cases under the vagrant law. This was scaled down by the county board to $61. The ground was that many of the offenders complained of as vagrants, and for whose conviction the charges ranged from $1.50 to $2.50, were nothing but plain tramps. In tramp cases, it should be stated, the established fee is seventy-five cents.

Quite a number of supervisors are among those called as witnesses in the case. No decision has yet been reached.

THE VOTING COMMENCED.

At a picnic under the auspices of the Catholic church at Highland, Iowa county, (Father Dempsey's) held on the Fourth of July, a cane was put up to be voted to the most popular candidate. The regulations required a deposit of five cents for each vote. There was considerable interest in the voting, resulting in a total vote of 3,002; of this number, Fisk, the prohibition candidate, received 190; Cleveland received 685, and Harrison received 2,127. Only a straw.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 75 degrees above zero. Cloudy with westwind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 92 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with south wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 73 and 83 degrees above zero.

WHEN the United States Fish Commission steamer Albatross was in the Straits of Magellan, where she spent a month making collections, she ran out of ice. So she steamed into Eyre sound, where icebergs are often found floating, made fast to a nice berg, cut off big blocks of ice, which was clear and solid, and took on board six tons, which lasted until she reached Panama.

FACTS FOR FARM FOLK.

ORCHARD grass will produce an abundance of feed in spots too shady for other grasses to thrive in.

WHEN there is no pork prepared for family use, says the National Stockman, the chances are that a good share of kitchen slops, garden refuse, vegetable waste, etc., will be a total loss.

SOME crops, when they fail, are a total loss, but Indian corn, although the yield may be small, always produces some grain, and if a partial failure the fodder remaining is of considerable value.

ENGLAND, Holland and Denmark are the best dairy districts in the world, chiefly for the reason that the climate and soil are well adapted to the growth of grass. Green grass is the cheapest as well as the best food which can be used for producing milk.

CARROT juice is an excellent butter color. It is still used on many old English farms. Clean carrots are reduced to pulp with an ordinary grater. The pulp is heated in boiling water and the liquid poured into the cream. Dairymen now believe it pays best to feed the carrots to the cows and let them do the pulping and heating themselves.

THE good common sense of the average farmer ought to see and will soon see that no one can part with a cow which will produce ten pounds of butter per week on an average for a less sum than two hundred dollars. For the five hundred pounds of butter she produces would afford him one hundred dollars profit besides the skim milk and the calf.

PARSNIPS and salsify may remain in the ground all winter, except such portion as are required for use during the winter. Other roots must be dug in the autumn, and all roots must be kept from becoming wilted after being harvested. It will require for sowing three hundred feet of drill three ounces of carrot seed, four ounces of salsify and three ounces of parsnip seed.

CATTLE that are kept constantly in the stable should be carded every day, and there is but little danger of too much of it being done. They should be kept as clean and dry as they conveniently can be, and treated with kindness. But carding or cleaning is not best for stock that is kept continually in the open air. Nature has given them instinct by which they keep themselves clean.

THERE is no longer a ready sale for the light horses that were used not many years ago. They find buyers, it is true, but at prices that hardly pay for raising them. All farmers who raise horses at all know this to be true, as they are often brought to a realizing sense of the fact when on taking horses to the buyers they are met with the statement that they are too small. Large horses are wanted.

ONE great cause of runts or poor pigs, says the American Breeder, is the fact that after weaned they are kept with the old hogs, who monopolize the feed. Often they don't get enough to eat. Such pigs should be kept separate from the older hogs, given good, dry, comfortable, sloping quarters, plenty of pasture with fresh water, and fed liberally three times a day with bran, middlings, clover, shorts, etc.

IF an apple-tree has a sound trunk and roots, it is a pity, says the American Cultivator, to destroy it under most circumstances. It takes many years to get a young tree into bearing, and when it does bear it will not furnish nearly so much fruit as one fully grown. By grafting with the Northern Spy and liberally manuring, an old apple-tree may be made much more certainly productive than young trees of this variety, which are usually shy and tardy bearers.

Water, Water, Water.

Now is the time to subscribe for water, for the Water Co. will lay but a few more services from the main to the fence line free of charge. Soon a charge of twelve dollars will be made for what the company is now doing free. The water prevents sickness, saves labor, keeps the grass green, lays the dust and cools the atmosphere. Office open every afternoon and from seven to eight o'clock in the evening.

COAL FOR THE SCHOOLS.

W. H. H. Macloon Awarded the Contract for School Coal.

First Payment Made on the New Second Ward School Building.

A special meeting of the school board was held at half past eleven this morning Com. Knoff presided, only four of the commissioners being present.

The meeting was called to pay the first installment on the second ward school house. It was decided that payments should be made as the work progressed—both in the second ward and in the first Supt. Colling's estimate showed that $841 worth of work had been completed by Nowlan & Wilcox. The allowance on this would therefore be $748 Payment was ordered.

Clerk Metcalf announced that all the coal bids which were likely to be received, had been handed in and suggested that the bids be opened. It was found that there were but three—W. H. H. Macloon's, Blair & Gowdey's and H. B. Johnson's. Most of the dealers had objected to making any bid at all, claiming that they lost money whenever they did.

The bids were for 215 tons of egg coal and thirty tons of Hocking. W. H. H. Macloon's and Blair & Gowdey's were the two lowest, there being a difference of only a trifle over two dollars between them on a sixteen hundred dollar bid.

Blair & Gowdey offered to furnish the hard coal at $7.25 and the soft coal at $3.43, while Mr. Macloon's figures were $7.20 and $3.70 and were accepted.

Before adjourning the board elected Commissioner A. O. Wilson president pro tem to act during the absence of President Sutherland.

A STATUE to Garibaldi was lately unveiled in New York. It is of bronze, eight feet ten inches high, and represents the hero in a workingman's loose costume, wearing a square cap, and in the act of drawing a sword. It is the work of Giovanni Turini, a resident Italian, and cost $10,000, and was erected by subscriptions from the Italians throughout the country.

THE London Spectator says of General Grant's Memoirs: "They are the true image of a man," and adds: "Probably never before—perhaps never again—shall we be told exactly how a commander feels when he goes into action. General Grant shows us this, and besides he presents that curious problem, the man in whom the purely personal pleasures of success in battle was reduced to nothing, and who was genuinely sorry, nay, crestfallen, at having to take his opponent's sword.

THE QUININE FIEND.

How a Great Many New York Belles Are Undermining Their Health.

A tall, fine-looking woman, dressed in the latest fashion, entered an up-town drug store last evening and approaching the counter leaned wearily against it, says the New York Telegram. The clerk, who was waiting on another customer, reached to a shelf and taking down a little box shook three pills into a bit of paper. He passed them to the fashionable lady and gave her a glass of mineral water. After putting the pills in her mouth the lady drank the water, and with a sigh of relief hurried from the shop. Not a word passed between either customer or clerk, and no money was paid for the pills.

"Well, that beats me," exclaimed a visitor.

"It is rather singular," said the clerk, smiling, "but such things happen here every day. That customer is well known in the social world. She has got the quinine habit, which will kill her in the end. There is too much of this quinine business going on, but we have to keep up with the times. That lady exhausted herself in social and charitable visits, and then began to take a five-grain pill of quinine to brace up on. She did it by the advice of a friend. From five grains every evening she advanced to fifteen, and soon she will want twenty.

"She likes to feel cheerful and look well when she goes out with her husband, and having become a slave of quinine she takes it as a stimulant. But her husband is ignorant of the habit. She pays us $1.50 a week and we keep the pills here for her. There are many ladies in Ward McAllister's exclusive 400 who are slowly dying of the habit. It is far worse than drinking alcoholic liquors, and we frequently advise our quinine patients to brace up on whisky or brandy and let quinine alone.

DOWN IN YUCATAN.

Love-Making Not Suited to Uncle Sam's Fair Daughters.

A Poetical But Slow Lothario — High-Flown Chivalry—An Old Maid's Paradise—The Family Attachment of All Classes of Society.

Our little handmaiden, Jesusita (which is Spanish for "small Jesus") has a lover, and every evening a pineapple-shaped nosegay, tightly tied with maguey fiber, comes bouncing into the sala tossed from without between the window bars, and immediately after is heard the twanging of a guitar, writes Fannie B. Ward from Merida, State of Yucatan, Mexico, to the St. Louis Republic. Generally the lover sings something of this sort:

Do not kill me! Do not kill me!
With a pistol, nor a dagger;
Kill me with a little kiss
From your lovely coral lips.

The sombreroed singer—in bright blue breeches and silver-embroidered jacket of yellow kid, with complexion like an old shoe, and big black eyes of marvelous brilliancy—is the valet of a local dignitary and rejoices under the name of Juan Bautista—John the Baptist. These gentle people, by the way, mean no disrespect to sacred things in their rather startling nomenclature, but, on the contrary, desire to prove their loving reverence by giving to their children the holiest names they know. Don Juan Bautista has been singing to our Jesusita nightly, so she tells me, for about four years, and squandering a good share of his income in bouquets to toss between the bars, uncertain whether they be appropriated by maid or mistress. "Are you engaged to marry him?" I asked. "Engaged! Senorita," "he has never asked me to marry him," replied she in surprise. "Then why does he come every night and give you so many nice flowers, if he is not in love with you?" "In love with me, Senorita; oh, yes," said the blushing maiden, "but he has not yet had time to tell me so, only in his songs. He means me for his esposa (wife) by and by, and he would kill any other man who came to serenade me."

To Northerners it seems absurd that a love-sick swain has not found time, after four years of constant attendance, to declare himself; but that is the way with these queer people. They fall in love literally "in the twinkling of an eye," and postpone the consummation of it often half a lifetime, content meanwhile to moon about the windows and write the most extravagant billet deux, full of tender expressions, such as "My life, light of my eyes, my heart's treasure," I love thee; loveth thou me?"

Yucatecan gentlemen higher in the social scale than John the Baptist are not less extravagant in their expressions of gallantry. In saluting ladies they still observe the Spanish form: "A losples de usted (at your feet), to which figure of speech the correct response is: "Beso a usted la mano" (I kiss the hand to you). In closing an ordinary letter of business or friendship every body in this part of the world always adds B. S. M., meaning "baso sus manos" (I kiss your hands). The Spanish-American, like his Latin brethren across the sea, talks quite as much with his hands and eyes as with his tongue and shrugs his shoulders as frequently as a Frenchman. One of the prettiest of the many gestures in general use here is called the beso soplado, throwing kisses by gathering the fingers of the right hand into a close group, touching the lips, then throwing them out like a fan, at the same time blowing in the hand as it is outstretched toward the person for whom the demonstration is intended, thus signifying that five kisses are given at once. Gentlemen manifest their appreciation of female beauty by gazing intently into the faces of the ladies, whether in the street, in church or at the opera. This custom, which elsewhere would be resented as an impertinence, is here accepted—as it is meant—merely as a flattering tribute to a fair one's charms. Between acts of the opera men rise to their feet and, with leveled glasses, pay admiring homage to those dark-eyed senoritas whose beauty may have attracted them. Then the pretty language of the fan comes into play, and the well-pleased maidens carry away blissful memories of gallant knights and "eyes that spake again." In ascending a stairway the lady takes the gentleman's arm, as at the North; but in descending he, to avoid accidents, always goes a step or two ahead, holding her firmly by the hand, with as much solicitude as if she was an invalid or a cripple. The same careful attention is offered to the veriest stranger, as naturally as, and with far more regularity and promptitude, our own countrymen show in relinquishing a seat in a crowded car to one of the weaker sex.

On leaving a house after having made a friendly call the salutation with the hand, the oft-repeated bow and the "a los pies de usted" are continued just as long as one may be in sight, and instead of finding any thing tedious and wearisome in this long-drawn-out civility one feels as if he had been transported back to the days of chivalry.

One highly commendable trait of Yucatecan character is that the natives will never say any thing disagreeable to any one, either on their own account or in repeating the gossip of others. For instance, in alluding to one's age the greatest delicacy is always exercised. If one be considerably advanced in years he or she is spoken of as viejito (a little old). A girl may remain unwedded thirty years or more before she is ever considered a soltera, or, in plain English, an old maid; and after that nothing more offensive is ever said than that she is muy fastidiosa (very difficult to please), and they sometimes add that she is good to dress the saints, meaning that, having no family of her own to make garments for, she may devote her time to the work of making vestments for the sacred images.

The attachment of all classes to their homes is a striking feature of the national character, and reverence for parents goes with these people through their wedded lives, increasing with the lapse of years. A man or woman never grows too old to kiss the hands of the aged father and mother, and to visit them every day if they should live in the same city, and the time never comes in the lives of the parents when the children are not more or less amenable to them. It is not unusual to see several families residing in the same casa as the grown-up sons with their wives and the daughters with their husbands could not be spared by their loving parents.

Thankful in Adversity.

A female Mark Tapley, after a life of toil, found herself an inmate of an alms-house. Reviewing her trials she said her husband had abused her, often beating her, but the Lord was good and took him away. When her son grew up he also was unkind and abusive, but the Lord was still merciful and carried him off with an attack of pneumonia. She had much to be thankful for in her old age; she had two teeth left, and, thank the Lord, they were opposite each other.
